

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

NATIONAL.

FOR PRESIDENT, GEN. DENJ. HARRISON, OF INDIANA.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT, WHITEHALL REID, OF NEW YORK.

FOR ELECTORS-AT-LARGE, JONES, WILLIAM WOOD, J. P. DUNLAP, WILLIAM H. SATEY.

FOR CONGRESSMEN-AT-LARGE, ALEXANDER McDOWELL, WILLIAM LILLY.

JUDICIARY. FOR JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT, JOHN DEAN, of Blair County.

FOR CONGRESS, JOSEPH D. HICKS, of Blair County.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY, J. A. BERKEY, of Somerset.

FOR POOR DIRECTOR, J. D. WELLS, of Somerset township.

Mr. Columbus had tried he could not have discovered us during a grander month than October.

CLEVELAND has subscribed $10,000 to the Democratic campaign corruption fund to be used for the election of himself.

COLUMBUS found "free trade" on these shores in 1492. Cleveland would like to keep it up to the same standard in 1892.

When Grover Cleveland wants votes he is a great friend of Union soldiers. He vetoes while President allowed better his real sentiments.

PROTECTION means high wages and home comforts and luxuries for working-men, while Free Trade means ill-paid labor, poverty and degradation.

It is perfectly safe to say General Harrison will get nine-tenths of all the votes of veterans of the old Union army, as well as nine-tenths of the votes of sons of old soldiers.

SOUTHERN Democrats can find nothing to boast to say of "the Third party movement." But up in Minnesota and out in Kansas they are trying to crawl into the same bed and drink out of the same bottle.

The Democrats of Tennessee are crawling out of a great fear. They are checking Candidate Weaver "to make a two-hour speech" and did not utter a word.

As that the Republicans of Somerset County have to do, to maintain their old-time reputation, is to get out the vote.

There is no reason why every Republican voter in the county should not be at the polls. A systematic effort should be made by the Committee men in each district to get out the full vote.

Now is a good time for every stalwart Republican to find out whether his neighbor is going to the election, and urge upon him to do so. A full vote means victory.

Close up the lines brethren! The National issue is between Protection and Free Trade. The State and Congressional issue involves three votes for or against Free Trade, honest money and fair elections.

The Legislative issue concerns two votes for a United States Senator, who will sustain or oppose Republican principles, while support of the local ticket means a continuance of sound home rule.

There is every inducement for Republicans to see to it that the party vote is brought out and fully polled. Close up the lines everywhere!

GREYER CLEVELAND says the Democratic party "wages no war against American interests," while at the same time it is doing its dirty best to belittle, decry and prevent the manufacture of tin in this country, and Senator Vest, of Missouri, one of his most ardent advocates, announces that the Democracy has "declared a war of extermination" on the protected industries.

CLEVELAND has been compared to a man who has compared notes before rushing into print. It is the same old swindling game of the professional thimble rigger. No one can tell under which thimble the little joker is.

The wisdom of Democratic financing must be found among the archives prior to 1861. Old people have a very distinct recollection of the money of those days. Every man who was going a hundred-mile journey, or to a distant State, had to change his paper money or carry silver and gold. So poor was Uncle Sam's credit that in 1859 a Democratic Secretary of the Treasury asked Congress to allow the States to endorse our National bonds so they could be rendered marketable. Just imagine such a thing as that now. Then he had to pay 8 and 10 per cent, and could not get money at that.

MR. BLAINE's brief but pointed speech, made at the home of Mr. Whitehall Reid, on Friday evening last, will carry glad tidings to every Republican voter in the country. It is not only evidence of his returning health, and of his unimpaired intellectual powers, but it shows how utterly unfounded have been the Democratic reports regarding his attitude in the campaign. Loyal as ever to the Republican party, his short speech is a bulwark to the country to reject the President who has been so steadfast to duty and who has given us an administration of which every American can well feel proud.

Our friends, the enemy, are circulating among the farmers a document which undertakes to tell them how calamitous is their situation, when they hear a tax-ed note to a tax-ed wagon, by means of taxed horses, and drive to town, where they buy such and such, and so and so. They omit to say, however, that the wagon now costs $50 instead of $125, as it did a few years ago; that the lumber it brings back from town costs $12 together with nails costing $2 7/8 a keg instead of $7; that it is painted with paint costing $7 per 100 pounds instead of $11, and galvanized with lined oil costing 45 cents a gallon where then it cost $1. These phrases of Republican taxation do not get in Democratic documents.

Blaine on the Issues.

The Man from Maine Makes a Stirring Address.

The Administration of President Harrison Most Heartily Commended.

White Plains, October 18.—James G. Blaine has spoken. A big crowd from the village of West Chester went to Philadelphia farm to-night and heard the man from Maine. Politicians had tried to obtain the same result but failed. The ex secretary however yielded to popular enthusiasm and spoke. The demonstration was spontaneous and on short notice. The idea was started this morning and by nightfall the news that such an affair would take place had spread over the entire part of the county. The Republicans gathered in all their strength and went to Mr. Reid's home. Delegates were present from Chester, Ely, White Plains and other places. After a few words of introduction Mr. Reid presented Mr. Blaine. As the popular son of Maine stepped forward he was greeted with shouts of approval. Not so with the Democrats. They have continuously opposed every monetary reform that has been enacted for the past thirty years, and to-day they recommend in their platform the abolition of the tax on State bank issues, which in effect would return us to the currency we had before the war, when no man knew if the value of his money would be worth the paper it was printed on tomorrow. If there was no other issue involved in this campaign, this question of sound money ought to be induced enough for every prudent, thinking man, to vote the Republican ticket.

Mr. Blaine spoke as follows: I doubt if since the government of the United States was instituted anybody, at any time, has seen what we call good times generally, taking it in so many interests and spreading prosperity throughout the whole domain of the country. I might appeal to New York, if the city has ever passed a season more satisfactory in financial results than the past two years, in which the general effect on capital and labor has been more prosperous. [Applause.] Republican party always represent New York as a commercial city, and not a manufacturing one, and yet the products of the manufacturers of the city alone is $700,000,000. Anything that would cripple the manufacturing industry would cripple the city and the State. It is a fact that in New York we get their living from pursuits protected by the tariff than from any other source. I know that New York is the center of our commerce, the great entrepot of our trade; but all the men engaged in commercial pursuits in and about New York are smaller in number than the men engaged in manufacture, for if you go west where the democrats declare they are making considerable effort and doing a vast amount of business, will you get different, take Ohio, take Michigan, take Indiana, take Illinois, and the products of manufacturers are greater in pecuniary amount than the products of these four great agricultural States; that is, that when it happens to democratic orators who are on the wing trying to arouse the hostility of these States against the protective tariff they will encounter a sentiment of which they have not dreamed. We learn from the democratic party that these people are in a desperate condition. The amount of their farm mortgages rolls up into the millions. You would suppose it fabulous that ever have been so involved.

Two Sisters Killed by a Train. Two sisters met a terrible death at the Coughman Furnace crossing, near Miller, on the morning of the 17th inst. Their names were Sarah and Ida, age nineteen and eight years respectively, and her groom-up son, Daniel, together with a number of other children, were on the platform at the Coughman Furnace station for the Harrisburg accommodation, all being bound from Harrisburg to New York. As their train arrived they all made a rush for it. Their western ex-press, an hour and a half delayed by the great entanglement of the platform and other train, striking Sarah and her little sister and mangling them horribly. One of Sarah's legs was torn off and she was otherwise terribly cut and bruised and Ida's arm was crushed and the bodies were carried to the Harrisburg hospital in other train. The express train overcame its terrific speed and stopped within a distance of perhaps twice its own length and backed up to the scene of the double tragedy, and after the bodies of the children were removed, it proceeded on its way. The bodies were prepared for burial and removed to the stricken home.

As Bad as It Was Painted. CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Mrs. Mary E. Lense, the Kansas orator and Third party organizer, gives her experience during her late trip through the South to a local paper. She thinks General Weaver did as well as any one could under the circumstances, but she asserts that she does not like Weaver to be the course of the Southener. She says the outrages were not committed by young men and boys, but in many instances prominent men were the leaders in the disturbances—in some cases organized party clubs that instead of one egg being thrown at them there was a great many eggs thrown, and not by boys, either.

She declares the indignities offered General Weaver and party were not because of anything he said or had ever done, but because he was advocating the cause of a party that was threatening the local success of the Democratic party. She was greatly disappointed, because she had hoped in this new party to ally with little sectional feeling there was left, but she finds it as "violent as ever Republicans had depicted it."

Rightful Western Storm. CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 17.—For nearly two days the severest storm ever known on the Union Pacific railroad has been raging here and as far west as Ogden, Utah. In all directions telegraphic communication has been cut off. All railroads have blocked, the cuts being filled with snow, which in some places was piled up 18 feet.

The Cheyenne Northern is entirely blocked, telegraph communication out of and no one knows where the belated train are. Two days have elapsed since the road was opened, and it is now New York.

Reports are being received of immense loss of cattle and horses in Northern Colorado and in Wyoming. Thousands of dollars worth of these animals are known to have perished, and it is estimated that almost a million of these animals on the ranges have been destroyed by the storm.

Must Pay for their Citizenship. SCANTON, Pa., Oct. 6.—Judge Conely to-day informed numerous applicants for naturalization papers that if any other than themselves paid for their citizens' papers, designating especially politicians or political committees, such papers would be immediately revoked.

Senator Quay's Plans. ROCHESTER, Pa., Oct. 17.—Senator Quay is at home in Leaver, and complains of feeling unwell. He says that he is going to New York, but he feels better and fixes no date for his trip.

Mrs. Harrison's Condition. WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—No change is noted in Mrs. Harrison's condition to-night. She passed a comfortable day and is resting easy at midnight. There have been no symptoms of any kind of abnormal complications, which nearly prove fatal to the patient while she was at Long Lake.

A Foul and Brutal Murder. CARLETON, Pa., Oct. 17.—William Reed was murdered by Samuel Stone in a most brutal manner near Mechanicburg last night. The trouble was over a woman. The weapon used was a razor. One of Reed's ears was cut off, and a slash across his abdomen left his entrails out.

Jaehna a Free Man. NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Henry M. Jarbne, the so-called New York blood-sucker, walked out of Sing Sing Prison this morning a free man. He served six years four months and twenty-seven days of his sentence of nine years and ten months at the end of last year.
